Economia, a.s. Commercial Terms and Conditions (hereinafter referred to as the "Commercial Terms and Conditions")

1. SCOPE OF VALIDITY

- a) The Commercial Terms and Conditions govern the publication of advertisements, flyer inserts and electronic forms of advertising (hereinafter jointly referred to as the "Advertising") in both periodical and non-periodical titles, as well as electronic forms of Advertising on websites or in applications (hereinafter jointly referred to as the "Titles") published or operated by Economia, a.s. (hereinafter referred to as the "Publisher").
- b) The Commercial Terms and Conditions also include the currently valid price lists of Advertising, published on the websites of Economia, a.s., www.economia.cz.
- c) The Publisher reserves the right to change the content of the Commercial Terms and Conditions. Any updated version of the Commercial Terms and Conditions shall always be published on www.economia.cz.
In the event of conflict in the wording of the Commercial Terms and Conditions, the Commercial Terms and Conditions published on www.economia.cz shall be considered valid and binding.

2. CONCLUSION OF AN ADVERTISING CONTRACT

- a) Any Advertising shall be accepted based on a written order or an order with an electronic signature. An order sent by e-mail or fax is also considered a written order if it contains a scanned signature of a person authorized to act on behalf of the Client.
- b) The order must contain all essential elements, in particular the identification data of the Client, i.e., the business name, designation or name and surname of the Client, its registered office, place of business or residence, or a contact address for sending a confirmation of the order and invoices, Client's company ID number or birth number, TAX ID number, bank details, legible name and signature of the Client, statutory body or authorised representative thereof, as well as an exact description of the ordered service. If the Client is a person arranging publication of Advertising for a third party, such an order must contain identification data of the third party as well as information whether the payment shall be made by the Client or the third party. If the order is made on account of a third party, the Client shall provide an appropriate authorisation from the third party.
- c) The Publisher shall issue, present or deliver confirmation of the order, containing the date of publication of Advertising as well as the price calculation, as proof of receipt of the order.
- d) Confirming the order shall mean that an Advertising Contract has been entered into between the Publisher and the Client.
- e) Confirmed orders of special forms of Advertising, such as embedded, stitched or inserted supplements or items, shall become binding for the Publisher upon delivery of sample products and approval thereof by an office responsible for accepting Advertising.

3. ADVERTISING BASE MATERIALS

- a) The Client shall be responsible for the timely and flawless delivery of the advertising base materials to the advertising office of Economia, a.s. Timely delivery is understood in the dates given for each product in this price list, or on the website www.economia.cz.
If no deadline is provided for a specific product, the following shall apply:
– Daily format of the product
Orders: 3 business days before publishing
Advertising base materials: 3 business days before publishing

– Magazine format of the product with weekly periodicity and non-periodic projects

Orders: 10 business days before publishing

Advertising base materials: 10 business days before publishing

– Magazine format of the product with monthly periodicity

Orders: 20 business days before publishing

Advertising base materials: 14 business days before publishing

- b) The Client shall also bear the responsibility for the content and lawfulness of the text and image patterns for Advertising. The Publisher is not obliged to review whether any third parties' rights are violated. Should any third party claim its rights regarding the publication of demonstrably untrue or illegal Advertising, the Client is obliged to assume all obligations resulting from such justified claims or is obliged to reimburse any and all damage incurred by the Publisher due to the aforementioned inadequate actions of the Client.
- c) The base materials for Advertising shall only be returned to the Client upon request. The Advertising Department shall keep them for three months after publishing unless agreed otherwise.
- d) Electronic media base materials shall be returned to the Client due to the smooth running of any claim proceedings on the 15th day after the Advertising publication at the earliest.
- e) Should the Client be in default with the delivery of complete and correct base materials, the Publisher is entitled to claim compensation from the Client for resulting damage or is entitled to withdraw from the Advertising Contract.

4. FRAMEWORK AGREEMENT

- a) Should the Client plan to publish Advertising of a specific range or financial volume during a specific period, it can enter into a so-called Framework Agreement with the Publisher regarding the publication of the Advertising within a pre-agreed scope that entitles the Client to use an agreed discount immediately. The Framework Agreement may be concluded for up to 12 months and must be made in writing to be valid.
- b) The Framework Agreement must contain a fixed period of time during which the Advertising of a specific range or financial volume will be published, the resulting discounts, Title (Titles) in which the Advertising should be published, and/or other arrangements.
- c) Upon the Parties' agreement, the Framework Agreement may also include the Advertising made during the period of 12 months before the effectiveness of the Framework Agreement expires, provided that such Advertising has been paid for properly and timely. The prerequisite is that the price of the previous Advertising shall be less than 50% of the total volume of Advertising determined by the Framework Agreement. If, as a result of inclusion of the already implemented Advertising in the Framework Agreement under this paragraph, the Client becomes entitled to a discount from the price of this Advertising, such a discount shall be paid after the effectiveness of the Framework Agreement expires. It can only be paid earlier on condition that the Advertising volume planned by the Framework Agreement has already been exhausted.
- d) The Advertising under the Framework Agreement shall also be published based on individual orders.
- e) Discounts resulting from the Framework Agreement shall only be provided if the Advertising within the agreed scope is paid properly and timely within the set deadline in compliance with the current price list (or in another pre-agreement amount). Otherwise the entitlement to the agreed discount lapses.
- f) Both the volume and the discount agreed in the Framework Agreement may be increased, on a contractual basis, even repeatedly.
- g) If the Advertising within the agreed scope is not published during the determined time period for reasons not attributable to the Publisher, the Client undertakes to pay the Publisher the difference between the price for the agreed and the actual published scope of Advertising.

5. PUBLISHING TERMS

- a) The Publisher reserves the right to separate the Advertising from the editorial content by a line, or a frame, and by lettering the Advertising with "ADVERTISING", "COMMERCIAL PRESENTATION" or in any similar way together with the assigned advertising number. However, as for Advertising of the 1/1 page full-bleed format, the Publisher reserves the right to place this designation directly into the Advertising space. The Client acknowledges that such an adjustment cannot be considered a reason for complaints.
- b) As for periodicals, the Publisher shall publish the Advertising in all their editions in compliance with the order. Unless the Client confirms in its order that it requires the Advertising to be published in an electronic edition, the Advertising shall only be published in the printed edition, including any of its copies in PDF format. Unless the Client confirms in its order that it requires the Advertising to be published in a printed edition, the Advertising shall only be published in the electronic edition, except for any copy of the printed edition in PDF format.
- c) Unless the Client orders a specific type, size, placement or date of the Advertising, it is understood that it delegates such a choice to the Publisher and shall pay the Advertising price in the amount of the Advertising actually made. In such a case, the Publisher shall publish the Advertising at its own discretion, taking into account the actual options of the respective periodical.
- d) If the Client orders the Advertising in the size not corresponding to the standard size of the Title advertising, the Advertising shall be adjusted to the closest possible size within the technical options and shall be confirmed and calculated based on such an adjustment.
- e) The publisher also reserves the right to grammatically modify the advertisement text according to valid Czech spelling rules.
- f) If the Client provides the Advertising not prepared graphically, the graphic design shall be made in a size corresponding to the pattern.
- g) A preview of the prepared Advertising shall only be provided to the Client for author's proof upon request. If the Client fails to comment on the final design within the set deadline, even though it has been demonstrably delivered to the Client, it shall be considered that the Client agrees with it. The standard method of sending the author's proof shall be by email in a PDF or DOC format file.

6. RIGHT TO REFUSE ADVERTISING

- a) The Publisher reserves the right to refuse to publish the Advertising due to inappropriate content, origin or form, and if it violates laws, decrees, good manners and practices or is in conflict with interests or could harm the Publisher's reputation. The Publisher is obliged to notify the Client of such a fact, however, it is not obliged to justify its refusal.
- b) Should the Client be in default in the payment of the Advertising price, the Publisher is entitled to suspend the receipt of the Client's other orders, i.e. conclusion of Advertising Contracts with the Client or publication of other Advertising ordered by the Client, until the Advertising price with which the Client is in default is fully paid.
- c) The Publisher is entitled to refuse to publish Advertising the graphic design of which copies editorial elements of the Title in which the Advertising is to be published. The same elements shall mean, for example, font, font cut and size, text wrapping and unambiguous graphical characters of the Title. The refusal of the Advertising by the Publisher for the above reasons does not release the Client from the obligation to pay the Advertising in full provided that all the base materials have been delivered upon the deadline for receipt of the base materials.

7. FAILURE TO PERFORM THE CONTRACT

- a) As for a force majeure event, the Publisher shall be relieved from liability for the fulfilment of its commitments and compensation for the damage incurred.
- b) If any agreed contract with a pre-agreed discount to be provided to the Client fails to be performed due to the Client's fault, the Client is obliged to pay the Publisher the difference between the agreed discount and the price corresponding to the actual performance after clearing the contract.
- c) The Publisher's obligation to keep the agreed and confirmed position of the Advertising shall only arise if an additional charge for a specific position applies. If the Publisher fails to meet such obligation, the additional charge for the specific position shall not be applied, however, the Client is not entitled to lodge a complaint.

8. ADVERTISING PRICE AND PAYMENT TERMS

- a) The Client is obliged to pay the Advertising price based on a tax document – invoice issued by the Publisher.
- b) The Advertising prices in the individual Titles, the method of their calculation and quantity discounts are determined in detail in the Publisher's currently valid price lists.
- c) Advertising prices in the price list are provided without VAT.
- d) The Publisher reserves the right to set contract prices.
- e) As for lump-sum orders, the Publisher shall usually charge the Advertising implemented within 5 calendar days after its publishing. As for continuously provided Advertising, for the purposes of value added tax, the Advertising relating to individual billing periods, from which a tax document is issued by the Publisher, shall be considered implemented as of the last day of this period. The Publisher shall also send to the Client upon its request together with the invoice a checking copy of the Title in an electronic form. The invoice shall be due within 14 calendar days from its issue unless agreed otherwise. The invoice maturity for the Client with a registered office outside the Czech Republic shall be 30 calendar days.
- f) If the Client does not specify the size of the Advertising and leaves the design up to the Publisher, the base materials for the Advertising price calculation shall be the format published.
- g) The Publisher is entitled to require from the Client a deposit or an advance payment for the Advertising under a pro-forma invoice.
- h) If the Publisher's claims are not paid by the Client within the due date, the Publisher shall proceed in accordance with Article 8 (k) of these Commercial Terms and Conditions and the Civil Code provisions.
- i) Where the obligation to pay the Advertising price is fulfilled via a bank, such an obligation shall be considered fulfilled upon crediting the amount corresponding to the Advertising price to the Publisher's account.
- j) In case the Client is in default with payment of the Advertising price, the Parties have agreed upon contractual interest on late payment in the amount of 0.1% (in words: one-tenth of a per cent) of the outstanding amount for each day of delay.
- k) The Client agrees to the pro-forma invoices and the invoices to be issued and sent in the PDF format to the email address determined by the Client for this purpose and declares that such an email address is actively used. In this regard, the Client further declares that it has appropriate means to receive, verify and open electronic pro-forma invoices and invoices sent in PDF format.
- l) As for the Publisher's claims that are overdue for more than 30 days, the Publisher is entitled to pass them to external companies for enforcement. In such a case, the Publisher is obliged to pay not only the interest on late payment specified in Paragraph 8 (i) hereof, but also any other costs associated with the external enforcement of the outstanding claims, including the costs of telephone, written and fax reminders.

m) The Client is entitled neither to offset its claims unilaterally against the Publisher's claims nor to pledge or otherwise encumber them with any third party's right.

9. WITHDRAWAL FROM THE ADVERTISING CONTRACT, CANCELLATION FEES

- a) The Client is entitled to withdraw from the Advertising Contract.
- b) Such a withdrawal from the Advertising Contract must be made in the form of a written notice of withdrawal which must be delivered to the Publisher in the manner determined for placing an order. The withdrawal from the contract shall only be valid upon the Publisher's written confirmation of receipt.
- c) In the case of the Client's withdrawal from the Advertising Contract upon receipt of the order by the Publisher, the Publisher is entitled to apply cancellation fees.
- d) In the event of the Client's withdrawal from the Advertising Contract, the Publisher is entitled to claim the refund of the quantity discounts from prices for the recurring Advertising or the quantity discounts for the ordered volume of Advertising to which the Client would not be entitled by this withdrawal from the Advertising Contract. The Publisher is also entitled to require the Client pay the costs incurred in connection with the Client's withdrawal from the Advertising Contract.

- Advertising can only be cancelled in less than 5 business days prior to publishing considering the actual conditions and the Publisher's possibilities. In such a case, the Client shall be charged the full Advertising price as if the Advertising has been published.

The full Advertising price shall also be invoiced if the ordered Advertising is eliminated from the press or is not published due to the Client's failure to provide flawless advertising base materials within the deadline under the valid price list for Advertising, or within an alternative date determined in writing by an employee from an office responsible for accepting Advertising.

The decisive factor for assessing the date of the cancellation receipt shall be in all cases the day of delivery of the cancellation to the department of Economia, a.s. responsible for accepting Advertising, and the time limited by the working hours in the respective department, i.e. from 8 am to 5 pm during business days. This provision shall also apply to cancellation sent by fax or email. 10. COMPLAINTS

- a) Advertising can be claimed in writing within 14 days of its publication.
- b) In the case of partial or completely illegible, incorrect or incomplete advertising, the Client is entitled to a substitute publication or discount. The method of substitution is at the discretion of the Publisher. In the event that the Publisher provides a discount, it shall always be to the extent to which the Advertising purpose has been limited.
- c) The Client is not entitled to claim a different colour of its Advertising unless it has provided a colour check copy of the printed Advertising on a hardproof media together with the base materials for the publication of the Advertising.
- d) Also, the fact that the Client does not receive any response for its Advertising properly published is not a reason for a claim.
- e) In the event of recurring Advertising with the same motif, the Client is obliged to check its accuracy and completeness after each publishing.
