Profit from our information

The HN family

web: www.HN.cz

Hospodářské noviny delivers general news with strong analytical elements and commentary from Monday to Friday. Of all the Czech daily newspapers, it gives the most space to economic and business information, the financial markets and services for entrepreneurs. It contains interviews with the leading Czech and worldwide entrepreneurs while conducting analyses of the most important economic events.

Apart from current news, trends and important events, the HN.cz internet domain offers readers the complete content of the print edition of the newspaper, including all of its magazines and special supplements. Readers of digital content can also pay for access to the entire newspaper archive all the way back to 1995.

Víkend (Weekend)

The printed Friday supplement of Hospodářské noviny, Víkend (Weekend), offers twice as much to read! As opposed to the newspaper, which continues to offer readers analytical news articles and commentaries focusing on the economy, politics and important social trends from home and abroad, the second part of the newspaper offers magazine content with reading material for the whole weekend.

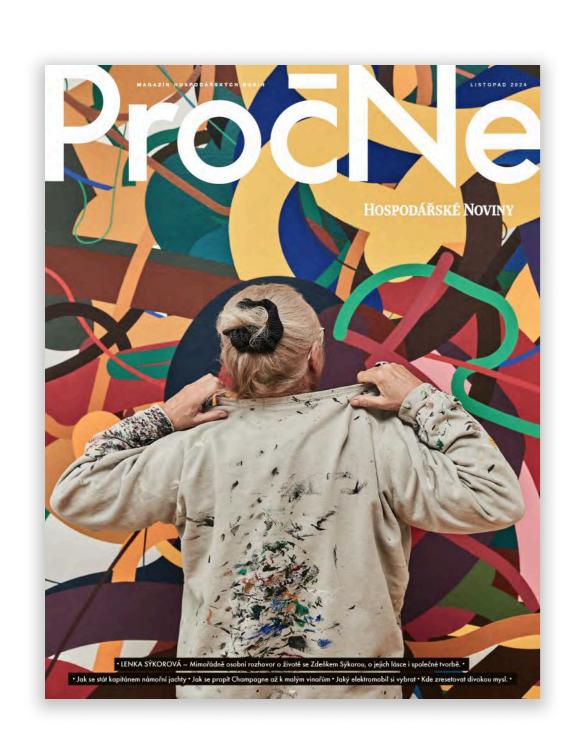

The aim is to provide readers with a deeper insight into socio-economic trends in longer interviews, reports and analytical texts, while at the same time offering lighter reading and presenting a new side of various personalities beyond that which we know from their professional lives.
